Lago Vista Development To Be New "Venice of Central Florida"

ROMANTIC ST. CLOUD

For years St. Cloud has been a dormant factor in a quiet, thriving community. Surrounded by fertile farming country capable of raising any food or grain. Unknown, unheralded, for many years, until one with great vision, with foresight and belief, in the future, determined that what is now St. Cloud should be a promised land, a land of love, of life, of sunshine and gold.

Here today are people from all points of the compass, from nearly every country in the world. All because they believe and because they do believe, they live in a promised land.

After a most careful survey of the entire state of Florida, by expert engineers, assisted by the best of professional men; men of science, men of medicine, and men of great wisdom, the present city of St. Cloud and its surrounding territory was chosen as the ideal spot in all the state for a fitting abode for those who fought in the great war, under the leadership of the great emancipator, to live the last years of their wonderful and glorious lives, in peace, quiet, and unsurpassed climate.

Even before the days of this marvelous survey there were others who knew of this wonderful climate and the value of a territory on the shores of beautiful East Lake Tohopekaliga, ("Sleeping Tiger").

In the days before the time, or event, of the white man on the shores of this beautiful lake, the Indians knew of the wonderful healing powers, and medicinal qualities of the waters of Tohopekaliga. Here it was that the Indian Chiefs sent their sick and wounded, that they might recover, rest, and become strong, brave warriors again. In the years past, where the city of St. Cloud stands today, was the hospital ground for all the Indian braves south of the Ridge.

With all this wonderful history, is it any wonder that St. Cloud is destined to be one of Florida's wonder cities? Is it any wonder that the land in close proximity of this wonder city will be in valuable?

On its lakes one will find boating and sports of every kind. In the waters of its lakes there are fish to satisfy the "hungeriest" fisherman's appetite. And in its lakes are the healing powers that mean long life and happiness to everyone who will partake.

The shores of East Lake Tohopekaliga are even more beautiful than the Atlantic Coast because of the undergrowth, the shrubbery, and most of all its white sand beach.

Before many months have passed there will have been built a beautiful boulevard, with white way lights, and white sand beach extending miles. With and everything to please the eye and make for beauty. Today St. Cloud is a thriving city building, every building. Contracts have been let, and workmen are busy with civic improvements, that cover the entire city. Sewerage, water improvements, lighting extensions, and miles of paving, to augment the present improvements. When finished St. Cloud will be second to no city in the state of Florida.

Taxes are low, very low, for a city with such civic pride and improvements. The cost of living is much more moderate than any other community in the state. It is here that the small investor, the man of moderate means, the man who longs for a home in the land of eternal sunshine, may come. Once here he will never leave. Why? For the very reason that others came and are still here. Because, here there is that "promised land," the land of love, life, sunshine and gold.

Developments are moving rapidly with millions invested to make future homes for the thousands who will migrate to Florida. Today, in the immediate vicinity of St. Cloud, are such developments as Lago Vista, Tolga Manor, Galton Gardens, Venice Gardens, Edgewater Beach, and Sunset Beach.

Nestling close to the waters of this beautiful East Lake Tohopekaliga is Sunset Beach, a new development that promises much for the home-builder. It is here that the man of small means may buy and build for a life of comfort and happiness. Editor's note:

(This is the first of a series of stories on St. Cloud.)

VENETIAN GARDENS TO BE ESTABLISHED EAST OF CITY

"Venetian Gardens" is the name of a new sub-division to be developed at once on the lake shore east of the city, where the canal connects East Lake Tohopekaliga and Lake Runny-mede, according to announcement made by the Dr. Henry interests this week.

A dredge has been purchased for the purpose of making canals and lagoons connecting with the lakes, so that practically every lot will have a water frontage.

This will be a small but very select sub-division, and announcement of the date of opening sale will find a ready demand for the choice locations thus afforded.

Palms are to be planted throughout Venetian Gardens and shrubs to beautify will be included in the development plans for Venetian Garden.

ST CLOUD HOTEL WILL BE MADE FINEST IN STATE OF FLORIDA BY NEW OWNERS

Dr. R. F. Henry has added to his already larger holdings in St. Cloud that of the St. Cloud Hotel, it became known Saturday, when an announcement was made that the hotel will be immediately rebuked to make it one of the finest hotels in the state.

Work is to start at once on making of the hotel one of Spanish design, the needed additions and alterations to be made in order to have the hotel ready for the late winter tourist season. Twenty new bathrooms will be added, and new plumbing installed throughout, while a new dining room and kitchen will be provided and every modern convenience to render the best of service to the traveling public will be installed.

Ceiling fans are to be installed in every room in the hotel, and it is announced that new furniture will be installed throughout the entire hotel. A new lobby and parlors will be provided and a palm garden ad-ed to the hotel, and when the work is complete the building will be the finest hotel between Orlando and Palm Beach.

Dr. Henry announced that he had purchased the hotel to provide the city with a much needed modern hotel, rather than with an idea of speculation in property, and he proposes to give the city an institution of which every one can feel justly proud.

The opening of the new dining room is planned for about Thanksgiving Day, when a big "homecoming" dinner will be served. Further details of the opening will be made public as soon as work progresses far enough to make certain of the state.

LeFlow & Taylor, architects, of Melbourne have been employed to make the plans for the Spanish style buildings and supervise the work. They are well known for their ability and artistic taste in hotel buildings.

Announcements made by C. A. Blair and Company, Incorporated, of Kissimmee and Chicago, that two new dredges are on the way to complete the plans of the great development work undertaken at Lago Vista, mid-way between St. Cloud and Kissimmee indicates that this new city will be the "Venice" of Central Florida.

Lago Vista has a lake frontage of some six miles and nearly twenty miles frontage on canals and lagoons to be provided in the wonderful development work now under way, many miles of streets are to be paved at once and Polaneta drive and San Remo Boulevard will be the widest driveway yet provided in the county of Osceola.

Twenty new homes have been contracted for and plans along the Spanish style of architecture are being made at the offices of the architects for the company in Kissimmee, actual construction of which will be started at an early date.

Arteries in the boulevard entrances are being erected along the Dixie Highway at the present time, which add much to the attractiveness of Lago Vista, and which will for time to come mark the entrance to Central Florida's finest lake and highway, frontage development.

A large force of men and much machinery is in use grading the streets and providing for the laying of sidewalks in Lago Vista, and nine branch offices are being opened at various points in the state, from which daily bus trips will be made to the properties of the Blair Company at Lago Vista and Tolga Manor.

Plans call for serving noon lunch on the property each day for the accommodation of those taking advantage of the free bus trips to the properties, and for this purpose large tents finished in Lago Vista colors orange and blue have been purchased and will be erected on the grounds within the next few days.

General offices of the company are located in Kissimmee where in the old merchants Bank building and here also are located the architects' offices and that of Mr. C. A. Blair, owner and developer of the C. A. Blair & Company, Inc. properties on the shores of Lake Tohopekaliga which is now to be known as Lake Tolga.

Advance reservations of lakefront lots and building sites are being made every day and long before the company completes their program of development it is believed the place will be sold out on reservations.

The ideal location of Lago Vista, facing six miles on the lake and four miles on the St. Cloud-Melbourne hard road gives to Lago Vista the best possible offerings for homesites and for the building of a new city between St. Cloud and Kissimmee, either water, auto or train service at the command of the new home-seekers, no better location can be found in the state.

The climate of the St. Cloud section of Osceola county has long ago made this section of the state famous and with the fertile lands of Lago Vista offering every opportunity for development of tropical foliage gardens, the future of Lago Vista was assured from the date the new owners announced their gigantic plans of development.

The C. A. Blair Company have been fortunate in securing the services of W. F. Bowman, well known Tampa and West Coast developer, who is director of the sales department.

Mr. Robert Fisher is assistant Sales Manager and director of publicity and is a man of wide experience in high class real estate development work.

Portals 16x16 twenty feet high are being erected at the entrances to Lago Vista, which faces on the Dixie Highway known as the St. Cloud Melbourne Road between Tampa and Melbourne, just about two miles west of St. Cloud. These portals mark the entrance to San Remo Boulevard and Polaneta Drive, where the grading is now under way for the two widest paved driveways in any community in Osceola county.

The bus lines to be operated to Lago Vista will come from nine different cities in Florida, where the C. A. Blair & Company, Inc., have established branch offices and will make daily trips to the holdings of the company at Lago Vista.

Some fifty passenger carrying vessels have been purchased by the Blair company to operate through the inland waterways from the Atlantic ocean and from the Gulf of Mexico to Lago Vista, which point is the head of inland navigation in central Florida and thousands of people are expected to take advantage of this delightful scenic trip through the sub-tropical waters of central south Florida to see the wonderful development work under way at Lago Vista.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEARS MANY REPORTS OF PROGRESS FOR ST. CLOUD

The luncheon and business meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was attended at noon Wednesday by a large crowd of interested business men and citizens. After reading of minutes Mr. C. A. Blair, developer of Tolga Manor and Lago Vista one of the largest developments in the state between St. Cloud and Kissimmee, was introduced by President Landis.

Mr. Blair gave some splendid remarks and as a large property owner in the county and a new owner, is ready to lend any assistance for the purpose of bringing Osceola county to the top of the list, where it belongs.

The names of the following were presented for member of Chamber of Commerce and were unanimously elected. F. N. Bennett, Wm. Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Blair, Mrs. B. J. Rhame and H. L. Godwin.

The suggestion by John F. Bailey that all past differences if any be forgotten and that complete co-operation for a county wide program be given which was given hearty response by all present. R. F. Steen was asked to report with reference to building for Realty Board and that the board had deferred for the present the matter of building and that they had decided to encourage Mr.

Lamb to build a home for Chamber as proposed.

Secretary Rolfe was asked to give report of finding with reference to the O. R. Land Co. who have been circulating literature showing St. Cloud about six or more miles distant from the lake. Upon investigation in Kissimmee he found the office had been discontinued and going to Orlando office after an interview with representative there Mr. Rolfe notified them that unless literature with misrepresentation was withdrawn matter would be taken up with proper authorities.

Mr. Rolfe also reported that he had personally placed fifty-two yellow narrow signs between here and Tampa and planned to carry up and down the East coast forty or fifty miles and made a request for 300 of which 250 are to be right hand and 150 left hand. Secretary Rolfe also said he had leased the cement block house in Kissimmee where a permanent bill board can be placed with a sixty foot sign, showing the way to St. Cloud. The Chamber took over his lease and ordered signs made.

John F. Bailey announced that L. F. Hardie, who recently bought the Conn buildings had made some other

SUNSET BEACH TO BE OPENED TO SALE WITH BARBECUE ON OCTOBER FIFTEENTH

Robert F. Grigor and Col. H. R. Wood, sales directors for the Henry interests have wired their branch offices to have at least fifty salesmen on the ground on next Thursday, October 15th, when "Sunset Beach" will be opened to the public.

Buses will arrive in St. Cloud on that day from St. Petersburg, Orlando, Winter Haven and Lakeland, and Mr. Grigor announces the guests will be entertained by the St. Cloud Orchestral Band, while arrangements are being made to serve a barbecue for the occasion.

An invitation is extended to all the citizens of St. Cloud to be present for the feast, and John in making Oct. 15 a gala day, as St. Cloud is now on the way to become one of the best talked of cities in Florida.

Thousands of pieces of literature have been distributed through the branch offices of the H. R. Wood selling organization in Connecticut, the past week.

Everyone is putting forth an effort to make next Thursday a great day at Sunset Beach.

Sunset Beach is located on the east side of East Lake Tohopekaliga and will have hard roads connecting with the county hard road at Narcoossee, and a boulevard driveway along the lake front. This boulevard will be extended on into the city, as soon as development plans can be carried out by owners of the lake front property.

BISHOP RICHARDSON SPEAKS OUT ON CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

Bishop E. G. Richardson of Atlanta, Ga., gave a thrilling address at the public meeting held on Thursday night at the Methodist Church in connection with the annual meeting of the Area World Service Council. A large crowd gathered to hear this, the final address of the sessions. Dr. I. G. Hyndman the local pastor presided over the meeting. A brief and very pleasing musical program was presented by the Choir. The musical numbers included a choral selection, "Savior Thy Dying Love", a solo "The Good Shepherd" by Miss Nina Lee Landis and a dramatic presentation of "The Old Wayside Cross" by Wm. Seabridge (solo) and Messrs. Steen, Steen, Patton and Parker (Male Voice Quartet).

Dr. Crippen of Atlanta, Ga., presented resolutions which had been unanimously passed by the Area Council expressing appreciation of the entertainment provided by St. Cloud.

Bishop Richardson was then called upon to give the address of the evening. In his opening remarks the speaker that at request of the Board of Bishops had gone to Europe as their delegate. In connection with that trip he had also served as a delegate for several other important organizations and had on this account good opportunity for obtaining first hand knowledge of conditions as they exist at present throughout the old countries. Having made five trips to these countries on previous occasions he was able to compare the present with the past. Moreover, he stated, he made it his invariable custom to stay at the distinctly native hotels so that he might be able from close contact to study the new points of the native community.

The speaker then went on to describe his impressions of the classic spots of Italy spending some time in word picture of the places made famous by the writings of the New Testament.

A swift transition brought the audience face to face with the moral and financial conditions of the old world countries. The Bishop reported a steady growth in prohibition sentiment. In Germany water had supplanted beer as the beverage to be found mainly on the tables in both the homes and the restaurants. Publicists were awakening France to a realization of the dangers of absinthe. The Government control of the saloon as practiced in Sweden, however was condemned by the Bishop who declared that bootlegging and liquor smuggling was widespread there.

Brief reference was made to the negotiations now pending regarding the payment by France of her debt to the impoverished. After describing the impoverished and almost bankrupt condition of the country the Bishop stated most emphatically that it would be utterly and completely impossible for that nation in sixty years. "France may cease to exist as a nation in sixty years" said the distinguished clergyman but she can never pay her debts in sixty years, nor in one hundred years. I do not see how it is possible for that nation to pay her debt in less than 140 or 150 years."

Bishop Richardson then went on to speak of the affairs of the Methodist Church as he had observed them in connection with the several conferences over which he had presided. The audience was held spellbound as he described in plain and simple language the terrible tragedies which had taken place as a result of the slump in the support of the mission field. The success of the missionaries had been shown by remarkable growths in the churches in the field but the falling away of the financial support had worked disastrous results in the lives of men and women who had given their all to the service of Christ and humanity.

REALTORS BOARD HAS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

The Realtors Board, the hub around which the business interest of St. Cloud revolve, had another enthusiastic meeting at the noon luncheon at the St. Cloud Cafe on Friday.

President B. L. Steen, Secretary Wm. Landis, and the following members were present: Jack Vinson, Clarence Dawlef, Lilburn Godwin, Chas. Landis, C. M. Steen, John A. Jefferys, John F. Bailey, Frank B. Patton, S. W. Porter, H. A. Haymaker and C. C. Rolfe, Secretary of Chamber of Commerce. The application of Archie Wigginton was received and he was elected to membership. It was announced that Secretary Secretary Grandfield of the Florida Real Estate Board Association will be guest of the Board at their luncheon on tomorrow. Secretary Rolfe of the Chamber of Commerce when called upon announced that the contract had been let for the two large signs 3 by 34 feet to be placed at White Springs and at Sunnall, and that he has sent a series of pictures of St. Cloud, for publicity, to Underwood and Underwood, Commissioner of Agriculture.

Bureau of Emigration also Worlds Traveler Magazine.

S. W. Porter, City Commissioner advised the board that the commission expect to let contract for construction of sewers at once.

After the building committee made its report and a vote was taken it was decided that since Leon D. Lamb had submitted a proposition to put a building for the Chamber of Commerce that the Board would encourage this proposition. It is desired that every member be present tomorrow at the luncheon.

CADILLAC SEDAN WRECKED TURNS COMPLETELY OVER

On Saturday night A. T. Meeker received a call to come out eight miles east of St. Cloud with his wreck car and when he arrived on the scene found the five occupants of a new Cadillac Sedan all of which were badly cut and one woman had her shoulder dislocated. That none were killed is the mystery as one would find if they took a look at what remains of the car in the Meeker Garage. The driver had just passed a car and getting under good speed seemed, not familiar with the deep and deep holes by the road, not to get control of the car until it in a flash turned completely over and was headed in the opposite direction. In some way the car was completely wrecked.

"We arrived at Grand Rapids a couple of hours behind schedule, but everything O. K. Grand Rapids treated us fine (the best ever). We left Grand Rapids on September 4 crossing Lake Michigan in the night, but with a good berth on the ship we had a fine night to Milwaukee. Early on the 5th we took train to Cloud B. Montyards (my wife's youngest son). Since arrival we have enjoyed every moment visiting friends and relatives at Eau Claire, Wis., and Oxford. We visited the Wisconsin Falls, which is a sight worth traveling miles to see. We will bring a book describing it home to our friends. They have had no frost here yet. We are both well and having a fine time up here, but will be glad to be back in St. Cloud within the next three weeks.

WORLD CITIZENS

The W. C. T. U. Edinburgh convention which closed June 23, announced a program for the next three years which shows that the three-quarters of a million women of the world who wear the white ribbon are not deceived by the false idea that the fight for sobriety is entirely won.
In fact, these good women are thinking in world terms and are acting as world citizens. Even if prohibition enforcement in the United States were a hundred per cent perfect, the W. C. T. U. of this country as a part of W. C. T. U. of the World, would still be on the job, for their program declares for world democracy, world peace, world purity and world prohibition.

Nothing short of a world-redeemed from the evils of the liquor traffic will satisfy the white ribboners.

COMRADE D. F. WOODHURST

Comrade D. F. Woodhurst who for a number of years has been a resident of St. Cloud and for sometime has been in failing health yet able to be about was taken suddenly worse on last Friday morning and the end came in a few hours. He lived with his wife on Ohio Avenue, near the City park.

He was always in for civic beautification and his home was complete in every appointment, as was his final arrangements when the end came.

He had arranged with Miss Kittle
Chambers and Mrs. Lydine Nywonger to sing and with Mrs. Puckett-Foster to preach the funeral sermon and all his requests were granted. The funeral services were held at the Eisenstein Bros. Funeral parlors on Monday afternoon at four o'clock with interment in Mt. Peace cemetery.

He also asked all his requests were granted and he was assured that as far as was possible the board would lend assistance.

Geo. Bagerston, representing L. H. Upton, of Miami, who is developing High Prairie as well as the other six developments in the Kissimmee prairie there is need of three bridges and when he explained that this is also on the main road through Kissimmee and Okeechobee this request was also granted. H. L. Waterford, who represents Dr. Henry vast interests requested that the road from the post office in Narcoossee be graded to the lake this was also granted.

C. C. Rolfe, Secretary of Chamber of Commerce was before the board in behalf of a county fair to be held in St. Cloud this fall and as Clerk Overstreet was not in position to advise the amount of appropriation for same the matter will be decided later if it is the aim to make this not only county but State wide.

H. F. McDonald stated to the board that he had taken and developing the Country club development and that if the board would build bridge will pave the road. This request was granted.

The board waived all objections to the proposed bill head by F. F. Hunter. The board granted permission to R. T. Minor to grade road between Kennansville and Holopaw.

That Dave Altman who is seriously ill might have proper food the board allowed a bill for $15 for same.

Mr. Story appeared for neighbors in his section with request that half mile be graded and the need was imperative as school bus goes this road and he was promised immediate assistance. Board adjourned till one-thirty. The Notary bonds of L. Rollins and H. S. Dawley were approved. Mr. Blair said he being a new owner was not familiar with Osceola county's road program but as a large taxpayer he was ready to do his part. He said we are making history fast in Florida and that he had talked with a number of people who are anxious to express their desire to see Osceola County go over big and wish for an opportunity to vote on county wide bond issue. Nothing better in the State than Osceola has to offer all we need is roads to get prospects to the property. And since it only takes 25 per cent of property owners on petition to get the bond issue surely there can be no blockade to the wheels of progress.

FIVE CENTS THE COPY—$2.00 A YEAR

MANY KINDS FLORIDA FISH ARE COLLECTED

KEY WEST, Sept. 20.—What was declared the finest collection of fish ever caught in Florida waters was shipped from the Key West port recently aboard the steamer Conal by John J. Shea, aquarist of the New York aquarium, containing between 1,500 and 2,000 specimens.

Among the odd species caught by Mr. Shea during his two weeks' sojourn in the vicinity of Key West and Dry Tortugas is the puffer, which when in danger of attack by another fish, draws in air into a bladder and swells into globular form, then floating with stomach up on the surface of the water, until the danger moment has passed.

In the meantime, Mr. Shea says, a series of spines appear on the body of the fish, providing a disagreeable mouthful when it is captured.

The sea horse, which Mr. Shea says, swims altogether differently from that of any other kind of marine life in Florida waters, also was among the specimens gathered by the aquarist during his stay here. This fish, Mr. Shea said, has the appearance of a bucking broncho when gliding through the water. It has no fins for use in swimming.

Numerous other odd species also were trapped by Mr. Shea, which, he said, would provide a valuable addition to the New York aquarium.

FLORIDA FIREWORKS FACTORY GIVES NEW INDUSTRY TO STATE

ORLANDO, Sept. 28.—Real Florida fireworks were set off here with the announcement of the establishment of a factory by the Florida Fireworks Manufacturing Company to produce rockets, crackers, bombs, and other pyrotechnic novelties.

The industry is believed to be the first of its kind in the state, and an exhibit of its output was shown at Lakeside Park, including set pieces representing bathing beauties, fire flies, flying fish, diving devils and huge sea serpents, 200 feet long.

PURCHASERS INSURED 50% PROFIT ON FLORIDA LAND

Reports from Kissimmee have it that land sales there are being insured. The land, it was said, is being sold by a group of Miami financiers in ten to twenty acre farm tracts. The total amount of land to be thus sold is five thousand acres.

The financiers are giving every purchaser an insurance policy which guarantees him fifty per cent profit on his investment. The policy is issued by one of the largest insurance companies in the world. Details of the plan were not forthcoming from Kissimmee, the financiers refusing to divulge their identity, preferring to keep it quiet.

Florida Prospects

Maxwell Zuerdorf, who has "for many years witnessed the growth of Florida," writes the Manufacturers Record that Florida will continue to grow because "the home builder as well as the land-buyer follows the social urge of being near his fellow men." He figures it out that there are in Florida, deducting the ten largest cities, (those above 10,000), 70 towns from 1,000 to 9,000 inhabitants, "rapidly growing."

He predicts increases of population in the principal towns, in the next five years, as follows: Tampa, 15,000; Miami, 150,000; Jacksonville, 100,000; St. Petersburg, 40,000; West Palm Beach, 30,000; Orlando, 30,000; Sarasota, 25,000; Lakeland, 25,000, a total of 550,000 increase of population in these eight cities in five years. He expects Key West, Sanford, Fort Myers and Ocala to add between them, about 50,000. In the 70 other towns, he predicts a total increase of 350,000.

Marriage Wrong?

It is not from poverty that comes a dramatic attack on modern living—but from Wall Street. One B. Winship, Wall Street Editor, has written a book, "Volcano"—in which he calls for a 50 per cent tax on every man's income for the support of all women and children. Also the abolition of the present marriage contract.

ers and Ocala to add between them, about 50,000. In the 70 other towns, he predicts a total increase of 350,000.

This would mean an addition to the population of Florida, in the next five years, of 900,000. It would mean a population of approximately 2,750,000 for Tampa in 1930. It would make the population of Florida approximately 2,000,000 in 1930.

But, this writer argues, "there is no reason to stop at 2,000,000 by 1930." He says:

"Millions more will probably have decided by then to spend at least part of their time in the 'pleasure ground' state of the Union. Contrary to the beliefs and shavings of certain 'go-getters,' who translate all human happiness into the number of smoking factory chimneys, clanking steel works and swarming industrial concentration, true friends of Florida hope that its increasing highways, schools, churches, hotels, winter homes, golf and pleasure clubs, estates of millionaires and acreage of golden fruits and succulent vegetables shall always remain the assets of the Peninsula, plus climate. Need we a stronger combination? There is a growing belief that the 'attention point' is not coming for many years. One cannot help wishing Florida to remain always the land of surprises and opportunities—of sunshine and lakes and luscious fruits, of peaceful retreats and jolly communities—a state apart from slavish rush and turmoil."

The Tribune believes that Mr. Zuerdorf's figures are conservative. "There is no stopping the growth of Florida. Speculators, land grabbers and fly-by-nights naturally will abandon the state when they find they cannot exploit its visitors with unreliable and visionary schemes for their own enrichment; but the solid and substantial influx will continue and more and more good people will come here and stay here because there will be more and more legitimate and profitable investments and more and more industrial and commercial enterprises and opportunities as the months go by."—Tampa Tribune.

FISHING LICENSE WILL BE CHARGED

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Non-residents of Florida must obtain fishing licenses before trying their luck in waters of the state, J. B. Royall, state game commissioner, is reminding lovers of the hook and line.

The commissioner stated that, he desires to deal fairly with visitors to the state, but the law, he said, must be upheld. A number of cases of violations of the non-resident provision have been reported, Mr. Royall said, and, acting upon instructions from the commissioner, deputy commissioners have instructed them regarding the requirements of the law, warning them against fishing again in Florida waters without the proper license.

Non-resident licenses, the commissioner reminded, which sell for $5.25 for the state, and $2.25 for the county may be procured at the office of county judges.

Several counties of the state impose an additional amount for county licenses, through permission given by the legislature. Commissioner Royall said. Non-residents can find the exact cost by inquiry at the county judges' office he stated, as the fee varies.

PUBLIC AGENCIES FOR PUBLIC JUSTICE

The Springfield, Mass., Union, in commenting upon a decision of the Public Utilities Commission of Mass., which awarded rates to the New England Telephone Company sufficient to assure its financial stability, said:

"As a public utility, the telephone business is in a class by itself. In the interests of the public it has to be a virtual monopoly. Competition would result in requiring users to pay money for two or more equipments instead of one."

"The New England company, alone, requires new capital to the extent of $20,000,000 a year for the next three or four years to meet the public demand. It would be grossly unfair to present users of telephones were they to be charged rates that would enable the company to get that amount of money annually from current earnings. The problem is to get new capital from investors and not from present users of telephones. The investor is always looking for a safe return on his investment and safety of the investment itself, and that means the financial strength of the company."

Our Air Defense Their Herculean Task

DANGERS FLORIDA MUST PUT FORTH EFFORT TO OVERCOME

It would be advantageous to our State if every newspaper having the good of our State at heart, and we don't believe that there are any newspapers in the State that have not the prosperity of Florida at heart, would reprint the following warning which appeared in a recent issue of the Manufacturers Record. There is far more truth than poetry in the matter and we trust that the warning will be heeded.

"From every part of the country come reports of an unprecedented movement of people to Florida this Fall and Winter. Already this is under way to such an extent that many Florida hotels are even now unable to accommodate the crowds at a season when Florida's population generally is at its lowest stage. Probably no economic state development in this country has ever attracted such widespread talk and discussion as is now occurring in every part of the land—to public in private and in the press—as that which Florida is at present commanding. All of this means that this Winter Florida will have hundreds of thousands of people more than it ever had before to take care of."

Railroad will be taxed far beyond their capacity in carrying tourists and others into Florida, and in the Spring carrying them out of Florida. The highways will be black with Florida-bound autos from the cheapest to the costliest; steamship lines are already booking Florida passengers for next January. Hotel accommodation will be wholly inadequate to take care of the number of people who will want to spend a portion of the Winter in that State.

These conditions mean that Florida faces its most crucial period. It must prepare in every way possible by rushing to completion hotels and apartment houses now under construction in order to take care of the crowds. It must safeguard these people from exorbitant charges for rooms and for food. It must safeguard their health by the utmost attention to sanitary conditions of milk and water and food. The people who have at heart the interest of Florida looking to years ahead must do all in their power to suppress any spirit of profiteering by hotels, boarding houses and stores, some of which may seek to rob their guests and customers without regard to the effect on the future of the State.

"Even though a large proportion of Florida's hotels are owned and managed by people from other sections, Florida and the South generally will be discredited by every attempt at profiteering, entirely ignoring the fact that this is done by people who have gone into Florida from the North and the West. Every evil act will be charged against the South as though every hotel and boarding house and every store were owned and managed by Southern-born people."

"Makeshift remedies in regard to the housing of people by the construction of cheap buildings, thrown together without regard to facilities of comfort or the establishment of testing camps to accommodate this rush of people will not avail much. Every hotel now under construction should be rushed to completion with the utmost speed that can be put into the work. Every dwelling that can be finished in time to help care for this Winter population should be completed as rapidly as possible."

"Ten of thousands of people who go to Florida this Winter may perhaps be accustomed to 'roughing it' in their former homes and, perchance, they may be satisfied with the conditions they find. But hundreds of thousands of men and women, accustomed to the best that can be had, will be in Florida, and unless they can find satisfactory accommodations many of them will leave the State in disgust and will carry to their homes endless denunciations of Florida's hotel facilities to the injury of the state in coming years."

"The highways now under construction in that state should be pushed to completion as rapidly as it is possible to do so, and all detours should be made safe and comfortable for motoring. Furthermore, the State Road Department, under new management, appears to be putting forth herculean efforts to accomplish this."

"Upon the way in which Florida meets the situation this Winter will depend much of its continued progress during the coming years. Indeed, the reputation of the whole South will, to some extent, be at stake by the way in which Florida handles these problems this Fall and Winter, for no one state in the South can be cut off entirely from its influence in the reputation of an other Southern state."

"In the meantime, it behooves the railroads and towns and cities in other parts of the South which have Winter resort hotels to advertise heavily in order to catch some of the inevitable overflow from Florida and this share in a prosperity, the very magnitude of which will stagger that state and might become a menace to Florida itself. If once, by reason of the shortage of transportation facilities and hotel accommodations and exorbitant charges for rooms or for food, Florida should cause widespread criticism throughout the land, it would take some years for the State to overcome that condition."

"The people who have been making great fortunes in the sale of their Florida properties and the real estates—who have reaped fortunes in commissions should, without a moment's delay in every way possible do their utmost to meet the conditions of an overcrowded state, which will be inevitable this winter. Let the transportation interest, the bankers and the other real leaders looking to Florida's continued and uninterrupted progress unite in planning to overcome this menace. It is no longer a question of inducing people to go to Florida. The supreme question now is to provide means to take care of them and prevent them being gouged by conscienceless people seeking only immediate gains, regardless of the State's future welfare."

TERM AUTO TAX STARTS IN 1926

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Beginning with the calendar year of 1926, automobiles under a recent legislative act, will be allowed in rebate in obtaining operating licenses as the year advances, Captain R. A. Gray, assistant state comptroller, reminds Florida motorists.

Under the new law, only a half year's fee will be charged after July 1, and a fourth of a year after September 30.

Total applications for automobile privileges, handled by the comptroller's department this year, including duplicate and transfer tags, will number approximately 305,000, Captain Gray said. The work of clearing up the calendar year's business of 1925 is now being completed. The net tags issued, he said, will approximate 300,000, or nearly a million more than in 1924. Last year's receipts were $2,471,000.

In looking back into the records, Captain Gray found an increase in every year's receipts since 1922. In 1923 there was a 27.4 gain over 1922 26 for 1924 over 1923, and this year it will be around 30 per cent, it was stated.

Before the establishment of field men by the comptroller's department, Captain Gray said, the receipts ran exceedingly low. Since a careful check has been possible, however he said, a steady gain has resulted.

Many automobilists are unable to obtain operating privileges because of improper procedure in getting licenses, Captain Gray said, between 10,000 and 15,000 such cases are on hand now, he said. In a great many such instances, he added, car owners block action of the county authorities by stating that they have made application, but that such application has been "unavoidably" held up.

RADIO AND THE CAMPER

A twist of the radio dial is all that stands between the camper and a world of entertainment and information. With the air crowded with broadcast waves carrying music, news of the day, stock and market reports, weather forecasts and other information, the radio receiver, in even the remotest camp, will furnish no end of service to those who have sought the great outdoors.

His Last Call

Dramatic Damsel:—"He plays the part of a dumb-bell perfectly." Green Freshie:—"I must get one too—I haven't anything but a ukulele."

FLA. OYSTERS GET OFFICIAL U. S. APPROVAL

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 21.—Oysters in Apalachicola bay, one of Florida's principal producing centers, have been found by the United States public health service and state health department to be "without contamination of any kind."

The announcement was made by Captain T. R. Hodges, state shell fish commissioner, who was in receipt of a letter from the State Board of Health to that effect, following a survey of the waters of Franklin county by Omar C. Hopkins, of the United States public health service, and Captain C. C. Hobbs, of the State Board of Health.

"We are gratified to report that samples of oysters and water from without contamination of any kind," Captain Hodges was advised. "Results were such that they would be entirely satisfactory to any federal requirements."

The reefs of Apalachicola bay cover about 7,000 acres of water bottom and samples of the water covering them, and the oysters growing on them, were taken daily for a period of two weeks and sent to the State Board of Health for analysis.

The commissioner has just returned from a trip of inspection of the oyster reefs of the state. He reports the supply plentiful and the quality excellent. Captain Hodges estimates that the seed oysters planted by the state dredge in Franklin will produce 600,000 gallons this season.

How to Can Fruits and Vegetables

Florida housewives can get brief directions and time-tables for the home canning of all fruits and vegetables in Miscellaneous Circular 24 which can be obtained free from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. It says that behind every jar of home-canned food that keeps or spoils there is a reason.

2 MILLION TONS OF PHOSPHATE SHIPPED

Florida shipped 2,432,851 long tons of phosphate during 1924 according to statistics collected by the Florida Geological Survey in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey. The value of the shipments amounted to $8,017,476.

The average value per ton during the year from land-pegble phosphate was $3.23 and for hard rock $4.30.

The hard rock phosphate comes mainly from Alachua, Marion and Citrus counties, and is almost entirely exported. The unsettled European situation has been one of the contributing factors to the depression felt in recent years by the phosphate industry of the state and particularly the hard rock field.

Land Pegble phosphate comes from Polk and Hillsborough counties, and while conditions in that field were far from normal they were on the whole better than in the hard rock district. The greater part of the output from the pegble field is consumed within the United States, although export shipments of pegble rock have increased very decidedly in the last few years. Of the total 1924 output of phosphate from Florida land pegble constituted 94.1 per cent.

Sales of Florida phosphate from 1920 to 1924 were as follows: Of hard rock in 1920, 409,240 long tons valued $4,525,191; in 1921, 175,774 long tons valued $1,800,071; in 1922, 188,084 long tons, valued $1,308,201; in 1923, 190,516 long tons, valued $1,671,673; in 1924, 143,115 long tons valued $620,573.

ABSTRACT OF ADDRESS OF DR. DEETS PICKETT ON PUBLIC MORAL

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 28.—"We will have to admit that, all things considered, young people are more reckless today than they were in the days of our grandfathers. There are reasons for this," Dr. Deets Pickett, Washington, D. C., told the ministers and laymen of the West Virginia Annual Conference in session here today.

Dr. Deets Pickett is research secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals. He has been making a survey and study of modern literature, plays and theaters. Dr. Pickett has also been studying boxing and prizefighting as it affects the morale of the American youth.

"I come tonight with a defense and a challenge," said Dr. Pickett. A defense because I am a young man and the ways of youth today seem to be arousing the country. A challenge because I am a young man and there are some things in this country that will never be better until young people make them better.

"Are young people today worse than they were when our grandfathers and grandmothers were causing their parents sleepless nights? Perhaps they are. There are reasons for this. In the first place they have at their command greater wealth than the world ever knew before and wealth expressing itself in terms of comfort and luxury as well as of power, multiplies the influence of every evil as well as every good deed. Our grandfathers were limited by the trotting range of 'old Dobbin' hitched to the farm buggy. The young man of today is limited only by the range of a high-power automobile. The radio brings vaudeville and jazz into his home; his bulging pocket book gives him the price of favors that may be bought. There is also the element of an increased leisure. Young as I am, I can remember the time when the workmen toiled from six to six. Now there are as many hours of play as there are of work. Public golf links and tennis courts and swimming pools offer new opportunities for play but, nevertheless, time hangs heavy on the hands of millions of young people who long for excitement, adventure, experience. There is also the consideration that our parents are more

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many St. Cloud Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day a like, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many St. Cloud people. Profit by this St. Cloud resident's experience:

E. K. Allen, retired painter, 10th & Madison Sts., says: "The hardships I endured in the Civil War affected my kidneys and my back became so lame I couldn't get up or down. My kidneys acted too frequently, getting me up many times at night and the secretions burned in passage. I used Doan's Pills procured at Edwards' Drug Store and they soon rid me of the attack."

careless than they used to be. Formerly father and mother were chiefly concerned with rearing their children and they made that supreme duty in life the subject of thought and prayer. Today father is playing golf and mother is at the beauty parlor having her hair waved. Parents are too busy with their own amusements to pay much attention to their children.

"Of course under these circumstances youth is punishing its own reputation. But let us not forget also that never before in the nation's history has youthful idealism been so vigorous. The conferences of church young people, the institutes where they put in long hours of study by which they can help their fellow men, these prove that the heart of youth today is as warm and as true as it ever was.

"But I want you to get this thought: even in their misbehavior young people today are more aimed against sinning. They are being exploited for profit or as a means of over turning the traditions and customs of the country. The 'rotic dances' are evolved by half-breed dancing masters. The 'rotic plays' are written and produced by men of maturity; salacious novels and magazines are not the product of youth even though they are produced for youth.

"In the first place we want to note the existence of a small but determined group composed mostly of the product of recent immigration which is actively hostile against the social organization and historic customs of America. They believe that 'Puritanism' must be destroyed before we can have the beautiful America of which they dream. They sneer at religion. Decency is hypocrisy; mercy is weakness; justice—there is no such thing. This group is trying to capture the youth of today because that youth represents America's future; and they know that if the youthful mind can be captured, America will have broken with its past. That affronts them to call us reformers! We are not reformers. We are defenders of America, of its history, of the precious things which have made it great.

"The people are hostile to prohibition because they consider it the very flower of Puritanism. But let me tell you this, prohibition has already so grounded itself in the economic of this country that it could not be pulled out without a social revolution infinitely greater than that which marked the passing of the saloon. Our prosperity is found upon it. Certainly the enforcement of the law is not perfect, but even imperfect enforcement has so far reduced liquor consumption in America that the savings banks are overflowing that really values have enormously increased; that the turn-over of legitimate trade is far greater than ever before, that the entire standard of the American people has been raised immensely and the difficulties of prohibition enforcement are gradually passing. Opponents may sneer at such a statement but these difficulties are tangible things. We know that they are and we know when they are overcome. Just as has occurred in a score of states, prohibition is passing through the period of rough waters and is coming into the safe harbor of accepted policy.

The world needs it. It needs amateur sport and professional sport. The gambler who lays his corrupt hand upon every possible activity is the greatest enemy of sport and the second greatest enemy is the exhibition of brutality in professional prize-fighting.

"And we want a return of the conventions which crystallize a respect for womanhood. Where woman is honored, the Divinities are complacent; where woman is despised, it is useless to pray to God. Youth is tired of the eternal pawing and mauling its young womanhood is receiving in the kind of dancing we have today. It is sick of the vulgarity of 'petting'. It wants a return of the gracious and beautiful femininity influence which is the only guarantee of strength and purity of the generation to come."

MRS. IRENE CASS WRITES OF HER TRIP TO CLEVELAND, O.

Mrs. Irene Cass, who formerly lived on the lake front and raised all varieties of fruits and vegetables, one day was talking to a neighbor who was complimenting her on her adventure. He said: "Mrs. Cass, if you make a success others will follow your example and land will go up to $100 and acre."

And in this immediate neighborhood the offer last week of $750 per acre was refused.

Leaving St. Cloud on my long trip as I went through the large celery fields, with elegant modern homes, also large fields of potatoes where they were harvesting their crop in the month of April, thence on to Palatka were the citrus fruit trees. We stopped for the night and the next morning visited the chicken hatchery where there were one thousand chicks peeping around and a thousand downy eggs in the incubators. From Jacksonville into Georgia there was a long distance which was a cattle ranch, then the cotton fields with hundreds of acres, then acres of berry bushes on both sides of highway and then the peach orchards.

At Richmond, Va., we were met by my son, Bosco and his wife who spent three weeks with us between there and Petersburg visiting old friends and neighbors. Among the famous farms was our own old homestead at Earnest. Going through some of the battle fields we picked up cannon ball and other relics.

We spent three days in Washington, D. C., the place of great interest was the new and old Smithsonian Institutes. Viewing the Roosevelt collections I had no idea there were so many different kinds of animals. I counted 65 different kinds of monkeys. Other places visited included botanical gardens, fisheries and zoological park. From there on through wonderful cities and to the world's greatest wonder Niagara Falls thence through New York where the large vineyards cover acres and acres, on through to Cleveland, Ohio.

Every moment from the time we left until returned to St. Cloud was one of delight and slight seeing but none more so than the first glimpse of dear old St. Cloud.

One evening as I sat and dreamed That I was compassed by my foes, And no escape, Oh then it seemed A soft voice whispered, Jesus knows, Jesus knows, Jesus knows, And He will conquer all your foes, With His strong arms He'll fold thee close, For Jesus knows, your Jesus knows, Oh what great joy came to my heart, Ye who have felt His presence, knows, Not for the world I'd with it part, Or from His love, for Jesus knows, Jesus knows, Jesus knows, His love still in my bosom grows, It conquers all my earthly foes, And gives me peace, my Jesus knows, He will not let me tempted be Beyond the strength my spirit shows, That I can bear, but succor me When I am faint, for Jesus knows, Jesus knows, Jesus knows, He'll temper every wind that blows, And give me weapons, that my foes I may subdue, my Jesus knows, Oh what a friend in Him I've found, So strong and sweet, for, like a rose, He scatters fragrance all around, For my delight, Oh Jesus knows, Jesus knows, Jesus knows, What tumult in my bosom grows, Tumult of joy since He, my foes Hath scattered for, my Jesus knows, Oh come my friends, and share with me His wondrous love, He will disclose Unto you all, and you will see, Vast realms of beauty, Jesus knows, Jesus knows, Jesus knows, In yonder Heaven that brighter grows, We may find peace, He'll none oppose Who love Him true, Our Jesus knows, S. SCHOOL NOTES

SOCIAL NEWS

The Clubs which are being formed under the extra-curricular activities program are a valuable addition to the social life of the school. Each pupil is required to belong to the Athletic and Glee Clubs, and besides these the pupil is allowed to pick two clubs from a list prepared by the professor. The most popular of these are the Dramatic, Courtesy, Swimming, Latin, Chessmen, Life-Saving, Home Economics and Agriculture Clubs.

The Wrenn Roast given in honor of the Freshmen, Friday evening, was well attended, not only by the Freshmen and upper-classes but by the faculty. Trucks and private cars were provided to transport the "doomed" Freshmen and members of the upper-classes to Richards on Alligator Lake. The Freshmen were allowed to go swimming to preserve their fresh, green color, and members of the upper-classes went in too, perhaps to see if the preserving was properly done. After the swim, everyone made a rush to the stand where wienies, buns, pickles, mustard and punch were waiting for them. After everything to eat had disappeared, which it did in a hurry, the Freshmen met their Waterloo. They were caught and assisted through a "belt line." Then it began to rain and the party broke up. The members of the Freshman class said that was one wrenn roast they would never forget.

This week, Sophomore Week is being celebrated. The Sophomores are allowed to keep their successors, the Freshmen, pretty well "under their thumbs" during the week. The main feature consists in a set of rules, which the Sophomores drew up, and which were approved by the Professor. The rules for this year are as follows: During the week beginning September 28, and ending October 2, 1925, every Freshman must comply with the following rules as long as he or she is in the school building or on the campus.

1. Each Freshman will be provided with a green cloth cap, which is to be worn as a mark of distinction.
2. Each Freshman must wear a tag (which is to be provided) signifying whether he or she is in the "A or B" Class.
3. Freshmen are not allowed to wear jewelry during this week.
4. No red ties on the boys will be tolerated.
5. The girls must not appear in extremely loud dresses.

6. In the presence of upper-classes. 6. In the presence of Upper-Classmen become meek, and try to look intelligent.

7. Do not show your ignorance by speaking more than necessary when in the presence of the more highly educated species of High School students.

8. Leave off all rouge, lipstick, powder, eye-brow pencil, stencils, and all other such chemicals for plastering down hair.

9. Obey the Sophomores explicitly.

10. All Freshmen taking lunch at the lunch room must stand at the rear of the line.

11. On the last day of Sophomore Week all Freshmen must enter the study hall backwards before the morning and noon assembly.

The second program which has been given under the extra-curricular activities was given last Wednesday morning. It was in charge of the Sophomore class and was greatly enjoyed by the whole school. The program consisted of living pictures of well-known songs and poems. The characters in costume presented the following:

Just Before the Battle Mother.

The Soldier—Frank Philpott.

Village Blacksmith.

Blacksmith—William Bowne.

Annie Laurie.

Annie Laurie—Alpha Wood.

Ride of Paul Revere.

Paul Revere—James Hill.

The Horse—A Brocstick.

Trump, Trump, Trump.

The Trumps—Three Sophomore Boys.

When You and I Were Young Maggie.

Maggie—Herna Jefferies.

"I"—Cecil Whaley.

Why Did I Kiss That Girl?

The Girl—Velton Walters.

The Victim—Cecil Outlaw.

Old Black Joe.

Black Joe—Howard Young.

After this the characters passed in review to the music of a duet played by Hazel Clark and Ruth McMillen. The program closed with "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Sophomores are to be complimented on a highly entertaining and humorous program presented with talent entirely from their own class.

Misses Martha Parker and Florence Coyle, and Donald and Probert Steen, attended the vaudeville at Phillips Theatre at Orlando, Saturday evening.

who are welcome additions to the Junior Class. Wayne Davis, who has entered the Freshman class and Jennette Kirkland and William Bowne who have joined the Sophomore class.

Among those we have one who promises us a great many surprises in football. William Bowne, entered this school from a High School in Illinois with already a two year football experience, and thus he may learn a great deal in our football squad.

Mr. Geiger reports that he has two more members in his Agriculture class making a total of thirty four.

Ernest Tyson, a member of the student body was taken to the Orange General Hospital at Orlando last Thursday night. At present Ernest is much better and the entire school is eagerly awaiting his return.

A very peculiar incident occurred Tuesday morning. The Holopow Bus leaves there at seven o'clock. One of the girls failed to appear at that time. As a result she was left. When she went to town a few minutes later, she learned of her misfortune but to her good luck she succeeded in finding a way in and appeared at school at the usual time.

STATE DEVELOPMENT BOARD

The combined deposits of the banks $258,278,900. Total deposits of all banks June 30th were $405,238,826.

Dr. A. A. Murphree, President of the University of Florida, has been elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Florida Development Board. W. F. Conchman, of Jacksonville, has been elected National Commissioner to represent the organization in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The New York Journal of Commerce announces that a syndicate headed by Logan Billmeyer, of that city, has closed an agreement tending toward the purchase of 17,000 acres of land on the West Coast of Florida from the Florida West Coast Development Company, of Chicago. The property has a frontage of approximately twelve miles on the Gulf and the Suwannee River, which borders the acreage.

Property owners of Stuart will go to the polls October 27th to vote on a bond issue of $500,000 for municipal improvements.

The Florida Development Board in connection with its continuous campaign to establish Chambers of Commerce in Florida occasionally encounters persons who have little or no faith in such organizations. Florida teens with examples of what Chambers of Commerce have accomplished but one instance stands out just now head and shoulders above anything in the state.

Fort Meade, in Polk County, is seventy years old. It followed the course of least resistance and grew little or none until last March when some of its citizens believed it time to share in the prosperity generally prevalent in South Florida. They organized a Chamber of Commerce with 50 members and engaged a paid secretary. Thirty days later the organization had 827 members, or exactly one out of every three persons in town, counting men, women and children. With virtually every able-bodied adult in the little city united the Chamber of Commerce, then set out the accomplishment something.

The first thing that went by the board was the town charter, which gave way to a city charter, along with commission government, and, with everyone boasting, things began to pick up.

Since the Chamber of Commerce began to function the population has been increased by 300 persons; 15 miles of streets have been paved, a new $100,000 primary school building is being erected, $250,000 is being spent on paved highways leading into town, with $100,000 more to follow.

a hotel costing $205,000—all subscribed locally—is under construction and the ready turnover has run well above $10,000,000.

The Center Hill Chamber of Commerce has launched a movement for construction of a hotel to cost $100,000. Plans call for a fifty room structure.

Charging that their section has been overlooked in needed improvements, residents of the eastern portion of Hernando County are advertising that they will seek to have the Legislature, in special session in November take their territory from Hernando and make it a part of either Pasco or Sumter County, or both. No large towns are in the district, the principal communities being Richland, Riverland, Rital, Orono and Berdell.

Citizens of Glades County next month will vote on issuance of $500,000 worth of bonds for construction of additional highways. One of the proposed roads would be built from Moore Haven to the Kissimmee River, on the rim of Lake Okechobee providing a road around the west shore of the Lake and connecting with the highway between Okechobee and Sebring.

Discovery of almost inexhaustible deposits of high grade rock in the vicinity of Center Hill has laid the groundwork for a new industry in that section. Development of our deposit one and one-half mile south of town already is under way.

The Sumter County Chamber of Commerce has boosted its membership to 132 since its reorganization in August and new members are being added almost daily.

South Georgia expects to take advantage of Florida's prosperity and market growth in population by feeding a large part of this state in 1925 according to information received by the Florida Development Board. H. M. Cottrell, Agriculturalist for the Georgia Bankers Association, now is engaged in compiling information relative to the number of carloads of foodstuffs Florida produces and how many carloads it consumes, with the intention of launching a movement toward supplying the deficit.

Three thousand members in three hours is the goal set by the Orange County Chamber of Commerce in a campaign to eliminate at noon October 7th. Plans are being made for committees to visit every town and village in the county.

The Nassau Board of County Commissioners has ordered a special election October 20th for the purpose of issuing $580,000 worth of highway bonds. The proceeds would be used to construct a highway between Fernandina and Yulee and between Fernandina and Amelia Beach.

The Burns Construction Company has been awarded the contract for construction of the $3,500,000 Sarasota Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Longboat Key. It is planned to have the structure completed for the season of 1926-27.

Contract for construction of a hotel at Arreda to cost $100,000 has been awarded by M. Schlossberg to Ralph Cannon. The building will contain forty-eight sleeping rooms, each with bath.

The Gainesville Chamber of Commerce has requested the city council to levy a tax of two mills to create a fund for advertising the city.

The Fernandina Chamber of Commerce has asked the city authorities to levy a tax of two mills for publicity purposes.

Florida has a vital interest in the war now in progress in Morocco although comparatively few of its citizens are aware of the fact, the Florida Development Board has been informed by persons associated with the phosphate industry of the state.

The Riffian war in its last analysis is a contest for control of enormous deposits of high grade phosphate recently discovered in Morocco and when the conflict is over Europe, the heaviest consumer of Florida phosphate, will have at its doorstep practically all it needs. It is believed in many quarters the inevitable result will be a decrease in European purchases of the Florida product.

A leaflet outlining some of the salient features of Florida's revised corporation law has been issued by the Florida Development Board in large quantities for use as enclosures in Number Six envelopes and are available to business houses and chambers of commerce at $3.00 per thousand, the actual cost of the printing in 100,000 lots. The last page of the leaflet is devoted to facts about Florida development. The purpose of the leaflet is to interest firms in other states to incorporate in Florida, the fees therefrom helping to pay state operating expenses and resulting in lower taxation.

A resident of Virginia recently addressed a communication to Governor Trinkle of that state, urging him to consider calling the legislature into special session to see if something could not be done about people "going to Florida". Much newspaper editorial comment on the proposal has been received by the Florida Development Board, including a clipping from the Bennettsville (S. C.) Advocate.

"If Governor McLeod (South Carolina) were to issue a call for a special session of our Legislature he would probably find out that half of the members are in Florida themselves", says the Advocate.

LAGO VISTA has a lake frontage of six miles, twenty miles of lagoon frontage, in addition to four miles of frontage on the state highway. San Remo Boulevard, a driveway to Lake Toliga, will be paved 120 feet wide, and Poinciana Drive paved for sixty feet. All resident streets are to be paved.

LAGO VISTA will be the highest developed section of Central Florida. Dredges will be on the job in a few days, completing the system of canals that will make of Lago Vista a "Venice in Central Florida". Streets are being builded and sidewalks laid.

Twenty new homes are now being designed in the architect's offices of the Company at Kissimmee to be erected in Lago Vista at once.

A fleet of palace car busses will bring the people of Florida to see this wonderful development. Watch for announcement of the dates of these trips from our branch offices.

Sallie's Temptations

Sallie Finds Wherein is Magic of Things

Curious must have known that for some reason I did not want to give him a dance. Otherwise I would not have used the excuse about the directors. He knew that I could have promised him one of the later dances that I had given to some of the younger crowd and explained later that there had been a mistake some- how. I had done that for Curly many times before. In fact, he re- minded me that on one occasion I had switched half a dozen dances in a row so that I might be with him. Oh, yes, he knew.

And he must have been hurt for- tunately after I had chatted with him, he and his brother left the dance. With his departure, it was the same as in the old days. The magic was gone and little glass lanterns were not so bright.

Oh, God, the flights of fancy that visit a woman's heart! That night was one of open-eyed reverie and in- explicable doubt. And oh, the whim- sicality of feminine device. I had sworn to Curly that it was not my desire to give him a dance and then because he did not pursue me, I told at him mentally one moment and then asked him for his prize the next.

And what of his engagement to Anne? With these thoughts racing about in my brain a few days later, I de- cided to drive Father down to the beach cottage and take a swim. I drove the eighteen miles with the speed of the wind. I loved its sharp sting in my face. Father sensed my preoccupation and remained silent during the drive. I invited him to swim with me but he decid- ed, declaring that there was a hint of Autumn in the air.

And so I went in alone. Because of the brisk dry the surf was delect- able except for me. But how pleas- ant it was to turn one's face sky- ward allowing the waves to lift you with the movement of a cradle, as calm was the ocean today.

Clouds as blue and brilliant as the eyes of a pretty child mantled the heavens on high and the turquoise tints of the water seemed friendly and soft. Overhead, sea-gulls sailed by—harbingers of good fortune to the sailors. Mom Nellie had taught, and as I recalled the superstitions, I wondered what luck they would bring to me.

I floated on and on, allowing the waves to lift me in their majestic arms and then toward Mayport, a silver winged into sight. Someone had told me that the reason the pelican is used as a sacred symbol is because the mother bird feeds her young by boring a hole in her breast from which drips the blood that gives them life. Mother-love! My heart softened toward the bird.

Then I began to swim. A path of sunlight reached golden fingers across the waves and over all there reigned an enveloping peace and that glorious sense of freedom that the ocean in- spires.

There had been another swim in the ocean when I had not been alone. I recalled the first night I had met Curly and he had rescued me from the heavy surf. I wondered vaguely if I would ever be able to go any place or do anything that would not bring him to mind, and wondering, I heard his voice.

"Hello, there! Mind if I tag along?"

"No, I believe there's room," I re- plied, nodding to the vast ocean.

We swam in silence. I could have gone on indefinitely with the rhyth- mical swing of his accompanying strokes at my side but we had been swimming with the current and found ourselves beyond the row of cottages and even past the inn. Toward the shore, were reaches of white sand and unending palms silhouetted against china-blue sky.

As if by common consent, we head- ed in and were soon seated at the water's edge. The waves broke in playful melody against our feet. It was good to rest a while and to feel his presence at my side.

It was what I call a gold day. Even the edges of the water and the beach itself were bathed in a mellow glow. The clouds had thrown them- selves in graceful abandon across the sky and the colors drifted from shell pink to the deep tint of wood violets. Over the entire scene a fleet-footed and invisible nymph of the sky had drawn a misty curtain. Here and there were baby clouds in pale man- ues.

Pools of pink and blue lay on the beach and clung to the places still damp from the waves of the hori- zon, a two-masted freighter up out to sea with its heavy cargo. The day was still and the smoke scurried in an unbroken line upward, and dis- tance with her flattering hands made silver clouds of it. A lone bird swift and sure as a man with a purpose, darted into the ocean.

A last faint sifting of golden ash- es of rose from a cliff-top scurf which the lady of the evening would soon draw close.

The Golden Cup Returns to Sallie

"I wanted to tell you that you look- ed like Hsuan-Tung at the dance," he broke the silence.

"You know my knowledge of his- tory," I complained.

He smiled slightly. "You remem- ber the little boy ruler, the last king of the Manchu dynasty who held the fate of China in his youthful hand?"

"Uh-huh," I nodded.

"Well, Sallie, as far as I am con- cerned, you are still like Hsuan for my fate is in your slender palms. Go with me what you will. I only know that I love you more, much more, than life itself and in deep humil- ity, I have come to tell you that my entire happiness depends on whether or not you will be my wife."

He was asking me to be his wife? Oh, why could not this have hap- pened before the intervening heart-ache and despair?

"But Curly," I answered, "what of Anne? Surely you're not going to throw her aside on account of that scandal at camp?"

"What scandal—and how did you know?" he asked in surprise.

"She told all of us about it at Valet's the other day. But, Cur- lie, your arms should have been big enough for her and her mistakes too."

"Sallie, precious, you don't under- stand. It wasn't the scandal that ended things there. It was my love for you. All through the dreary months your face was ever before me and I was haunted by your sweet- ness and a thousand irresistible char- acteristics that are a part of your adorable self. When I had thrashed things out in my mind, I regarded your indiscretions in their proper light and knew them for the mis- chievous pranks of an impulsive child."

"But you would never have broken off with Anne if it had not been for that scandal your brother told you about?" I replied. "And oh, Cur- lie, I'm so weary of men who follow a woman as long as they think she has a spotless past and then, when it comes time for truths, are so small of soul to understand."

"But my darling," he interrupted gently, "what has that to do with us?"

"Everything. It was that some- thing of scandal that made you will- ing to put our love aside in the first place and turn to Anne."

"But ———"

"No, let me finish, please, because I can't marry you, Curly, and I want to tell you why. Even if I have to sacrifice my happiness, it would be better than making the heart of me ashamed by breaking faith with my ideals. You see if you believed in love as I do, you would have loved me in spite of any mistakes I might have made; mis- takes that after all have helped to mould me into what I am. Don't you see that you would have loved me because I am I and hand in hand with your love for me would have gone faith in my ultimate ability to achieve the qualities that you ad- mire."

I looked far out across the waves, not wishing to meet his absorbing gaze for I loved him so, and with his eyes gazing deep into mine, I could not have had the strength to tell him that our paths must be apart.

"You know, I've been a blundering fool," he cried with suddenness in his voice, "but I don't want you to think that I've ever doubted my love for you once, sweetheart. The thing that drove me from you was not lack of faith but a hide-bound admiration for a certain sort of conduct that I had been reared to expect in the girl who became my wife. But," he continued, "some way, I realized how impossible it was to ignore my heart's desire. I saw too that my warped perspective had been due to the environment of my youth. I came back, Sallie," he reached over and took both my hands, "to beg your forgiveness on my knees. I want to Anne at once and told her of my love for you and released her from our engagement. For to have mar- ried her under the circumstances, would have been most unfair. Then," he continued, "I hunted for you and followed you to the Chums to ask you to be my wife, but remember how you wouldn't listen, dear."

"I couldn't let the potatoes burn!"

I replied looking down at the gleam- ing sand.

"How big and fine and charitable you've been to those people at the 'Plant,'" he continued, then back to the subject again. "Oh, I don't blame you for not wanting to hear any- thing I have to say. I have never the end, I'm not discounting that."

"You mean by telling Anne that you knew the story about her at camp?"

Amusement gleamed in his eyes. "You don't think I'd do a thing like that!" he exclaimed.

"That's what she said."

EXCEPTIONAL RIDING COMFORT

The riding comfort of a motor car is not dependent upon its length, weight or cost, any more than the comfort of a home depends upon its size.

If the seats are deep enough and the proper distance from the floor; if the seat backs are correctly pitched for relaxation; if the upholstery is sufficiently stuffed and there is plenty of leg room; above all, if the springs are rightly designed and of proper length, you will have exceptional riding comfort. Otherwise, you will not.

Dodge Brothers, with characteristic thoroughness, studied and experimented with these details for years. Their findings were ultimately incorporated in the design of Dodge Brothers Motor Car—without question now a vehicle that ranks with the first in this vitally important feature.
